

Onno Verstegen to leave Delta Lloyd

The Supervisory Board of Delta Lloyd announces that Onno Verstegen (52) has decided, in amicable agreement with Delta Lloyd, to leave the company shortly and pursue his career elsewhere. Onno Verstegen has served Delta Lloyd since 1995 and has been a member of the Executive Board since 2011. Previously he held a variety of director roles within Delta Lloyd, including as managing director of Delta Lloyd Insurance and chief commercial officer at ABN AMRO Insurance.

Chairman of the Supervisory Board Rob Ruijter: “Onno Verstegen made an important contribution to the operational and commercial success of Delta Lloyd, including the creation of our Premium Pension Institution, BeFrank. We wish him all the best for the future.”

Onno Verstegen: “I have always worked with a great deal of pleasure at Delta Lloyd and the company offered me plenty of opportunities. After 20 years with Delta Lloyd, I think the time has come to move on and explore new challenges. Delta Lloyd is a wonderful company and I wish Delta Lloyd and all its employees every success for the future.”

Delta Lloyd will announce details of Onno Verstegen’s successor as a member of the Executive Board shortly.
